CYGNUS MEDICAL

Hoping instrument jaws stay open during sterilization cycles may not be enough. Achieve peace of mind with the Gator Instrument Clip from Cygnus Medical. Exposing instrument surface area during sterilization is critical in order to ensure sterility. Gator Instrument Clips help to keep instrument jaws open during sterilization cycles. Peel pouch instruments must be sterilized on their side edges. In this position gravity pulls instrument jaws closed. Gator Instrument Clips prevent this from happening.

KEY SURGICAL

Using Key Surgical Electro Lube anti-stick solution in electrosurgery is clinically proven to optimize procedure time. When used on uncoated electrode tips, Electro Lube prevents eschar buildup which means less surgical time wasted on removing buildup and more energy-efficient delivery to the instrument during use.

R-ZERO

The World's First Continuous, Automated Disinfection Ecosystem

The COVID-19 pandemic accelerated the innovation of UV-C technologies. R-Zero's full disinfection ecosystem is providing better support for layered disinfection protocols across the healthcare value chain. By correlating disinfection data with patient outcomes, we can better understand the factors that increase risk and rate of infection, and help create innovative solutions to protect your patients, staff, and visitors.

TRU-D FROM PDI

The Tru-D device is an advanced UVC disinfection system that delivers one automated, measured dose of UVC to consistently disinfect a room from one position, ensuring significant pathogen reduction, reducing human error, and documenting disinfection results for each cycle. Tru-D® extends PDI's environment of care portfolio, addressing the need for a layered approach to infection prevention.
